A Principal of The Scowcroft Group, Thomas D. Gallagher provides strategic and financial advisory services to clients, specializing in U.S. monetary, fiscal, and currency policies. He also analyzes G20 economic policies and global trends. Prior to joining The Scowcroft Group, Mr. Gallagher was a Senior Managing Director of the International Strategy and Investment Group, Inc. (ISI), a Wall Street research firm. Before he began at ISI in 1999, he was a Managing Director at Lehman Brothers, where he worked as a political economist for thirteen years.

Mr. Gallagher was the top vote-getter in the Washington Research category on the Institutional Investor's All-Star Team from 2001-2010. He also sits on the Global Investment Committee of Morgan Stanley Wealth Management, the largest private wealth manager in the world, and serves as the Vice Chairman for CEB Monitor Group Ltd., a Shanghai-based Chinese economic research firm. He is also on the faculty of the Georgetown University's Public Policy Institute as an assistant adjunct professor. Mr. Gallagher serves on the Board of the Africa Parks Foundation of America and on the Editorial Advisory Board of Mental Floss magazine. He was a regular panelist on "Louis Rukeyser's Wall Street" and served on the Community First Bankshares Board of Directors until it was sold in October 2004.

Prior to his employment on Wall Street, Mr. Gallagher worked in the federal government as a senior staff member at the U.S. International Trade Commission, Legislative Assistant to Senator George Mitchell, Economist for the Senate Budget Committee, and as an Analyst in Public Finance for the Congressional Research Service.

Mr. Gallagher earned a BS in Economics and Political Science from the University of South Dakota (1976) and a Masters of Public Policy from the Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University (1978). He is also a Chartered Financial Analyst.
